Description:

Founded in 1989, American Innotek, a San Diego-based company, is the manufacturer of the Restop line of field lavatory products. The proprietary technology developed and patented by American Innotek has been used to create the only complete portable and disposable sanitation solution that meets the needs of today's mobile workforces and outdoor enthusiasts. The company's products meet all environmental standards for common disposal of human waste.

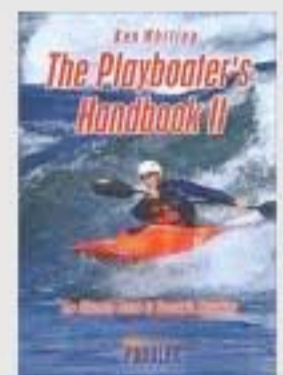

eNRG Kayaking is highly committed leaving as small a footprint as possible on those waterways we visit. We recommend that all our students and friends consider this option for minimizing human impact on the rivers and wild places we share.
